

NO BRYAN BANNERS WILL BE PERMITTED.

Employees of the Long Island Railroad Receive Such an Intimation.

So They Have Abandoned Their Plans for Fear of Losing Their Positions.

CANNOT BE COERCED FURTHER.

Give Up Their Proposed Organization, but Declare That They Will Go to the Polls and Vote for Bryan and Sewall.

A delegation of railroad hands, representing different branches of the Long Island Railroad system, and including men who rank from track hands to division superintendents, waited upon the president of the railroad a few days ago and announced their intention to raise a Bryan and Sewall banner across one of the leading thoroughfares of Long Island City. The project was evidently not favorably entertained, as it has since been abandoned. What took place at the meeting can only be conjectured, as the employees decline to discuss the matter.

From a reliable source, however, it was learned that the men were informed that they need not look for assistance or sympathy from their official superiors, and the word also went quickly forth that such men as espoused the regular Democratic ticket might soon find themselves without work.

Among the many advocates of Bryan and Sewall on the Long Island road are men who enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his former president, the late Austin Corbin. One of these men is employed in a position of trust in the Long Island City offices of the company. He was one of the prime movers in the proposition to raise the Bryan and Sewall banner, and formulated a plan to organize Bryan and Sewall railroad clubs on every branch of the road. The plan seemed to meet with hearty endorsement, and in less than a week's time over 400 names had been enrolled. This also led to the ground after the projectors had been told that the directors of the road looked with disfavor upon the scheme.

A conductor on the South Shore road was seen at the Long Island City terminal last evening. He was naturally loath to discuss the matter, as he said it would be worth his position were he to make public his attitude in the matter.

"You may tell the Journal," said he, "that while we are denied the right of free speech, at least we have not been robbed of the right to exercise our right of suffrage, and on election day we will cast our ballots according to the dictates of our conscience. I have no hesitation in stating that fully 60 per cent of the men on the road will vote, not as their bosses desire, but for the candidate and platform which holds out the most to them."

No official prominence could be found in Long Island City last evening to confirm or deny the stories of attempted coercion.

LIFE SAVERS SUSPECTED.

Burglaries Near Easthampton, Where Rev. R. Heber Newton Has His Home, Lead to Serious Charges.

Amagansett, L. I., Oct. 11.—People all along this section of Long Island are interested in charges which are pending against Captain Nathaniel Dornier, of the Georgia Life Saving Station. The charges are largely of discipline in the management of his crew of life-savers, and nothing could more shock the people in this section. There is another vague charge in the complaint, which is now in the hands of Superintendent Felling. The charges came from Washington, and were forwarded by the Department to Superintendent Felling for investigation.

The Rev. R. Heber Newton, of New York, owns a place near the Life Saving Station, and the men of the Life Saving Station, it is alleged, have trespassed upon it. They are also thought to know something of the housebreaking, which occurred near the station recently.

Captain Dornier and his men deny the charges which have been made. The inspector will shortly make an investigation.

KILLED A BABY BROTHER.

Older Child Threw a Stone and It Caused a Wound Which Developed into Blood Poisoning and Death.

Vineland, N. J., Oct. 11.—As a result of a wound in the head, caused by a stone thrown by his older brother, Willie, a two-year-old son of William Chan is dead at his home in Norma, near this place. He died in great agony. There is great sorrow in the village as Willie was known and liked by all the inhabitants. The children were playing together about a month ago, when the older lad threw a stone which struck his little brother in the forehead. A serious wound was made, which bled profusely. The injury was bandaged and it seemed to be healing nicely. However, and all efforts to stop its progress being futile, the sufferer died in agony. The parents of the lad are nearly crazed with sorrow.

THIS BOY CAN'T BE BAD.

His Father Has Him Sent to a Reformatory, Thence He, Eleven Years Old, Supported Two Younger Children Two Years.

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 11.—Frank Conrad, eleven years old, was sent to the reform school yesterday by Judge McCormick. He has taken care of three younger children for two years, or since his mother died. The boy's father, Charles Conrad, says the boy is bad, but his refined, delicate face does not indicate it. The little chap says his father would not care for him properly and he took money out of the drawer for clothes.

WORKINGMEN WANT REPRESENTATION TO SAVE COMPLAINTS FROM BEING PIGEON-HOLED.

John F. Maher, delegate of the Liberty Dawn Association of Coach Drivers, moved yesterday at the meeting of the Central Labor Union, that a committee be appointed to see the proper persons in authority and ask that labor men should have a representative on the Grand Jury. He said that if labor were represented, these would not be so much pigeon-holed of cases where men were indicted for causing the death of workmen on buildings by willful negligence, motion, directing the Law on Legislation Committee to see the persons in authority, was carried.

MAY HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE.

The Brooklyn police have been asked to look for Mrs. Elizabeth Hart, thirty years old, who has been missing from her home, No. 211 Montrose avenue, Williamsburg, since Saturday. The relatives of the missing woman fear she may have committed suicide, as she had been despondent for a long time on account of ill-health.

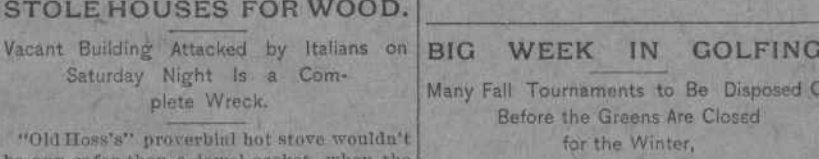

NOS. 18 AND 20 ROOSEVELT STREET

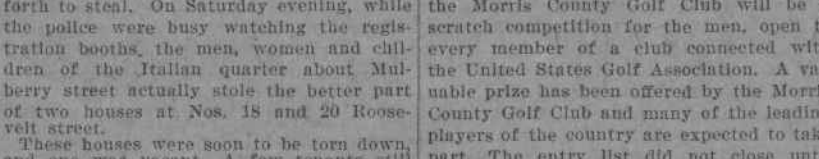

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

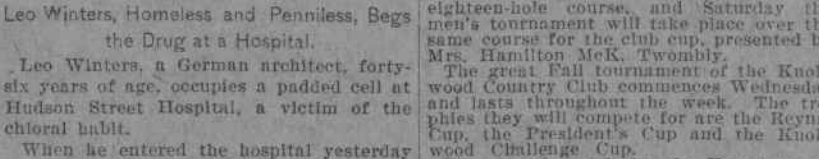

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

THE HEAR OF NO. 18

HEIMED BY FIRE, BRAVE MEN SAVE THEM.

Three Women, Cut Off from Escape, Rescued by a Policeman and a Neighbor.

All Taken Down on a Ladder, the Aged Mother Being Found in a Room Inaccessible.

GROPE IN CHOKING SMOKE TO GET HER.

Escape Is Cut Off When the Flames Are Discovered and the Head of the House Seemed Helpless to Render Aid.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt awoke about 2:30 o'clock this morning to find the whole house filled with a dense suffocating smoke. She quickly aroused the others and started to escape.

Port Richmond, S. I., Oct. 11.—The family of Isaac C. Shortt, of this place, had a narrow escape from suffocation at an early hour this morning. Three members of the family were saved by a policeman and a neighbor. Mr. Shortt resides with his wife, mother and sister at No. 23 Maple avenue. Miss Shortt